

BOSTON UNIVERSITY

Graduate School of Arts & Sciences

Your Next Steps: Housing Guide

You're in! Now, it's time to decide on housing and living in Boston. Your accommodations and neighborhood can determine your experience in Boston and your transition to our beautiful city. Graduate students have the opportunity to live on campus or in one of our many diverse communities.

ON-CAMPUS HOUSING

If you would like to explore living on campus, check out the available options from BU Graduate Student Housing. On-campus housing is furnished, and includes the cost of utilities and some amenities, helping you to save money and have a smoother move-in transition.

Located on Central Campus, you will find our Graduate Brownstone Residences and Graduate Apartments. On East Campus, you will find Graduate Apartments, and on South Campus you will find more Graduate Brownstone Residences and Graduate Apartments. Finally, Peabody Hall is located on our Fenway campus.

Read more about all of these options in our On-Campus Housing Guide for graduate students.

OFF-CAMPUS HOUSING

If living off campus is more appealing to you, you're in luck! As a major metropolitan city, Boston has various neighborhoods that offer many options to fit different student housing needs. Housing listings in Boston and the greater Boston area can be found on the Off-Campus Services website. Our students also find apartments on major listing sites such as Zillow, Apartments.com, Redfin, Trulia, and Realtor.com. Check out our Off-Campus Housing FAQs for graduate and professional students for any questions you may have about finding an apartment.

Popular nearby neighborhoods for graduate students include Allston, Brookline—Coolidge Corner and Brookline Village— Brighton, Kenmore Square & Fenway. Find out more about these neighborhoods, including their proximity to our Charles River Campus, in our Off-Campus Housing Guide for graduate students.

We can't wait for you to become a part of the BU Arts & Sciences community and make your mark in Boston!

