2017 International Emory Global Health Case Competition March 24 – 25 2017, Atlanta Boston University Team Recruitment

Unfortunately, BU has been placed on the waitlist for Emory's Global Health case competition due to extremely high demand. Because we are on the waitlist, we are hopeful that we will still be able to attend, and there is also an option of participating in the competition virtually via a video submission. We will therefore still continue to host the mini case competition for selected candidates, but we'd like you to know that at this point we are not guaranteed to participate in the Emory competition.
