

“THOSE KITCHENS WE CANNOT HAVE”: DREAMS OF AMERICA IN ITALY'S POSTWAR HOUSEHOLD ENVIRONMENT

*

PAOLO SCRIVANO

Paolo Scrivano is an assistant professor of contemporary architectural history at Boston University. Prior to joining BU in 2007, Professor Scrivano taught at the Politecnico di Milano and the University of Toronto, organized a number of symposia and exhibitions, and wrote two books.

Please join GSAHA for this very exciting first lecture of 2008!

THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 2008

5:30 P.M.

CAS ROOM 200

Q&A to be followed by reception

Questions? sloutsk@bu.edu or slacorie@bu.edu