SUBJECT: Dedicated Website for Part-time Faculty Issues

As you know, last February the Part-Time Faculty Working Group made a set of recommendations regarding part-time faculty who are employed on a per course basis. Since then, we have been working to assess the recommendations and to begin implementing many of them during the coming academic year. Recently, the University has become aware of efforts by outside labor organizations to become the exclusive representatives for part-time faculty at Boston University. In order to keep the whole community informed about our work, and about part-time faculty issues in general, we have created a stand-alone website. All faculty and staff are invited to learn more about part-time faculty at Boston University by visiting <http://www.bu.edu/parttimefaculty>.
